

Broadband over powerline trial gets regulator approval

The Australian Communications and Media Authority (ACMA) has authorized SP Ausnet to conduct a trial of broadband services in Mount Beauty, Victoria. The trial will allow SP AusNet to determine the technical feasibility and commercial prospects of using broadband over powerline technology to supply high speed internet and associated services. The services being supplied to about fifty residential customers are high speed internet, Voice over Internet Protocol and video on demand services.
